ABSTRACT OF THE DISCLOSURE

A method of image/video compression by analysis of variability of block DCT coefficients in a strip of (macro)blocks to decide on treatment as either encoding or approximation by the corresponding strip of (macro)blocks of a prior image.